The coroner finding a verdict that the negro came to his death by drowning, and evidence of foul play having been circulated, the body was exhumed and an examination held, resulting in a verdict that the deceased came to his death by being struck on the head with a blunt instrument, and other was thrown or fell overboard and died from the effects of blows or drowning. been one of the most outrageous that has occurred in that part of the State in years. An eyewitness makes affidavit to the Chief Executive that Tipton came to a lumber yard where Webb was at work, walked by him to a store, procured a shotgun, and coming back to where Webb was at work, cursed him, ordered him to throw up his hands and then fired point-blank at his victim with the muzzle of the gun within three feet of him. Electric Irons Being Demonstrated

The great number of uses and benefits of the electric iron are being demonstrated here by Mr. H. J. Collum, of Philadelphia. Mr. Collum arrived here from Philadelphia yesterday, and has already placed sixteen irons in this city with the patrons of the Virginia Railway and Power Company for thirty days' test. Mr. Collum is an expert in working with the electric iron, and will call at any home with an iron and demonstrate its uses, free of charge. Speaking of the advantages of the electric iron over the old-fashioned sadiron, Mr. Collum says that you turn the current on three minutes and the electric iron remains hot forty-five minutes afterwards, and that no matter how warm the day when ironing, no heat radiates to the person ironing. This means that you can iron anywhere in the house in the hottest weather and feel no heat from the iron. Another benefit of this iron is that Mr. Collum points out is the fact that in the sick-room the iron may be inverted and used as an electric stove for preparing food to nourish an invalid.
